

Judith Hermann

West German.

Hermann's tales depict mannered people in their 20s whose disconnection is their only connection.

she focusses on several points of tension:

old/young

east vs. west

country vs. city