

21F.067 Cultural Performances of Asia
Prof. Ian Condry
Foreign Languages and Literatures
Fall 2005

Week 5: Murakami Haruki (special lecture)

- 1) Murakami Haruki represents a globally recognized author from Japan. What do you think is part of the key of his success with American audiences? (Personal opinions are fine here.)
- 2) Would you say that the same reasons for anime's worldwide success apply to Murakami's success? Why or why not? How important are the differences between TV/film industries compared to the publishing industry in explaining the spread of Japanese culture?