

Governance and Community Resilience

Questions to be addressed in your response paper:

The Brunner chapter deals with problems in natural resource governance, but the historical roots are germane to many other governance problems experienced in society at large. In your reaction paper and in your preparation for the class discussion, address the following questions:

- 1) In Brunner's opinion what is or are the problem(s) with governance?
- 2) What in Brunner's opinion are the current trends with respect to governance?
- 3) What in Brunner's opinion should our goal be with respect to governance?
- 4) Do these themes resonate with you? If so, how? If not, why?
